WEEDS KILLED

By Long-Sought Lawn Fertilizer, Which Grows Grass, Experiment Station Announces

Kingston, R. I .- Discovery of the long-sought fertilizer that will grow grass and kill weeds is announced by the experiment station of the Rhode Island State College as the result of 20 years' of research.

The realization of the dream of gar deners the world over-a weedless lawn-is possible without trouble or expense, according to the official col-lege statement, merely by the use of ammonium sulphate instead of nitrate of soda in the annual application of

Slowly but surely the weeds will disappear and the lawn will become the even velvety green that is the envy of every neighbor," says the state-

"Gardeners amost universally have advised supplying nitrogen, the chief element in the plant food of grass, in the form of nitrate of soda. This gradually tends to bring about an alkaline condition of the soil, which is especial-ly favorable to the growth of weeds. Soon the grass is crowded out and the lawn has an uneven appearance.

"By using ammonium sulphate, which is not more expensive, in the same quantity as the nitrate of soda, the required amount of nitrogen is supplied and the soil kept in the acid condition under which the grass develops best, but the weeds are so weak-ened that they are crowded out."

Steady improvement is reported from ie automobile centers. J. G. Culbertson, resident of the Wichits Motors Co. of Wichita Falls, Tex., says:

"Business conditions are steadily im-proving and I believe that March and April will be better. Our foreign business is showing a healthler tone. We have received considerable business from Mexico and inquiries from all parts of the world indicate better possibilities. Our lomestic trade has shown remarkable reovery during the past ten days. I look for steady improvement."

for steady improvement."

The machinery and tool trade is improving, a sure forerunner of increased activity, and the New York manager of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. says that the punners of industrial expansion are busy making calculations and estimates which are turning into inquiries and eventually will become orders. Flants are increasing operations throughout the Great Lakes district.

The New York market continues flood-to inquiries and eventually will become orders. Plants are increasing operations throughout the Great Lakes district.

The New York market continues flooded with an unusual number of buyers who, while conservative in their purchases, report that the outlook in both ine west and south appears more hopeful. Western dry goods jobbers are pressing eastern manufacturers of fabrics for immediate delivery, indicating that the retailers shelves are bare.

The United States Steel Corporation is being widely criticised for its failure to reduce prices, and the steel market naturally remains dull because everyone knows that further readjustments must be made. This delay helps in turn to postpone building, thereby starting a little vicious circle of decreased employment and lessened purchasing power which is duplicated in some other industries. The coal trade is another in which depression centers, for the so-called shortage last summer was so well advertised and seatimulated buying that stocks in consumers hands are now reliably estimated at 130,000,000 tons against a normal of $6,000,000,000 tons against a normal of $6,000,000,000 tons against exported by Dun's in February totaled 1.541, much greater than during the corresponding months of the boom years, but comparing to 2.278 in February totaled 1.541, much greater than during the corresponding months of the boom years, but comparing to 1.278 in February totaled 1.541, much greater than during the corresponding months of the boom years, but comparing to 1.278 in February totaled 1.541, much greater than during the corresponding months of the boom years but comparing the banks in preventing greater distross is just being appreciated, for example, in the fur trade, where it is generally known that heavy bank borrowing were involved, a bankers' committee has so regulated the liquidation of stocks that prices at the St. Louis auction during the past formight have recovered 10 to 25 per cent from the levels prevailing at the New York auctions last fall.
